

I pay for XM radio in the same manner that I pay for cable TV. Cable TV has both traffic and weather....why shouldn't XM radio. I spend two to three hours per day on the freeways commuting. Why would you want to deny me the right to pay for this service and receive valuable information regarding travel and weather conditions in addition to the entertainment value that I receive when listening to other XM channels?